Culled And Condensed for Busy Readers RESUME OF PAST WEEK

Current Events of Interest in This State Selected and Briefly Noted For Advertiser Readers.

Greenville, S. C.—Census Supervisor Geo. M. Pritchard and his assistant, Mr. Jas. H. Price, are busily engaged in preparing to take the thirteenth census in the fourth congressional district. Just now Mr. Pritchard is at work dividing the district into enumeration districts. Each enumeration district will be covered by one enumerator. As soon as the district is properly subdivided, Mr. Pritchard will submit his recommendations to the census bureau for the appointment of enumerators.

Greenville county will be divided into about forty districts, and therefore, the supervisor will have about that many appointments for Greenville county. Spartanburg county will be split up into something like forty-five districts, with an enumerator in each subdivision. Laurens county will have about twenty-five districts, while Union county will be subdivided into twenty enumeration districts. Altogether Mr. Pritchard will make something like one hundred and thirty appointments of enumerators.

The actual taking of the census will begin on April 15, 1910, and must be complete within thirty days. The supervisor has been very careful in making his geographical divisions, so as not to give any enumerator a territory which he cannot cover in the time specified.

Spartanburg.—President Henry M. Snyder of Wofford college announces a gift of $10,000 to Wofford by E. L. Archer of this county.

The gift came unsolicited and will be used in the erection of a much needed dormitory building at Wofford.

Mr. Archer is a farmer residing near the city. He has represented this county in the general assembly as State senator and is one of the public spirited men of Spartanburg. He is well known throughout the State.

Greer.—A sad and fatal accident occurred here last night when Elizabeth, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Thompson, fell from a chair, running a pencil into her throat. The little child, suffering severely, lingered until about 1 o'clock today when she passed away. Elizabeth was a beautiful child, dearly loved by all who knew her. The bereaved parents have the deepest sympathy of this entire community.

Columbia.—Mrs. Oscar Land, who was accidentally shot by her husband yesterday morning, was resting very quietly at the Columbia hospital last night when inquiries as to her condition were made. It was said at the hospital that while the wound received is painful, it is not considered dangerous by the physicians in charge.

The accident occurred yesterday morning at the Land home, 1203 Wayne street. Mr. Land had been shooting at some pigeons that had been annoying the household, and is said to have playfully pointed the gun at Mrs. Land who was slightly ill and was reclining on a bed. Mrs. Land pushed the gun away, the weapon being discharged as she did so. The bullet entered her body and it was feared that a lung had been penetrated.

Oscar Land is an engineer in the service of the Columbia, Newberry & Laurens Railway company and is well known and quite popular in Columbia and the many stops along his "run".

Newberry.—Cole L. Belase was elected mayor of Newberry, defeating Mayor J. J. Langford, who has served for two years. Mr. Belase received 315 votes, as against 289 for Mr. Langford.

Little Facts For Farmers.

A government report says that in the United States 2,600,000 cattle die annually from disease, exposure and neglect. This country always feels uncomfortable when statistics of waste are brought up.

After timbers have been cut from the log they should be dried as rapidly and evenly as possible so as to remove the moisture and prevent checks. Wood should not be placed in contact with the ground until it has been thoroughly dried; otherwise some fungus will enter and cause rapid decay.

Here are some facts worth remembering: Fifty pounds of butter make one firkin; 100 pounds of fish make one quintal; 200 pounds of beef or pork make one barrel; 5 pounds make one keg; 100 pounds make one cask; 25 pounds make one barrel of soap; 280 pounds make one barrel of salt; four inches make one hand; 640 acres make one square mile, and 36 square miles make one township.

PLAN FOR DRYING FRUIT.

An Evaporator Takes the Place of Old Method.

The old way of drying apples, peaches and other fruit in the sun is not always desirable on account of the worms and bugs getting into the dried product and also from the fact that much loss results from the uncertainty of the weather. Then the fruit is of better quality when dried in the evaporator. A few dollars' outlay and a little time spent in the dull season, when other farm work is not pressing, will be all that is necessary to construct an evaporator that is equal in all the essentials to one that would cost many times that amount.

One corner of some outbuilding properly arranged with the heating stove to furnish the heat and you have the beginning already, for you will have two sides already built, but it would be more accessible if constructed in the center of the room.

A very convenient size is four feet square with a small door near the floor to permit access to the stove and another door three feet or more from the floor, which is the full width of the evaporator and reaches to the ceiling with hinges at the bottom, so that it may be let down on to some support and so form a shelf when open.

The stovepipe should be arranged in the form of a spiral so as to throw off as much heat as possible, and this may be accomplished by using common elbows and a few short joints of pipe. Set the first elbow on the stove opening and turn the next one horizontally, making at least one circuit of the compartment within a foot of the top of the stove, completing an approximate circle about three feet in diameter. Then the pipe may be carried outside through a convenient opening and run up, either on the inside of the main building or outside.

Only one set of trays may be used in this evaporator, and these will be held in place by cleats nailed to the inside at such intervals as will allow the trays to slide one above the other and should extend from just above the coil of pipe to the ceiling. The trays when filled with fruit are put in and removed through the large upper door and are so constructed that they fill the space entirely, being four feet square.

The trays should be made so that they can be used either side up. Eight pieces of lumber one and one-quarter inches square and four feet long with a piece of half inch mesh galvanized wire netting four feet square are the materials used for one tray. The netting stretched and nailed between the two pieces make a good reversible tray four feet square and one and one-quarter inches deep.

How One Doctor Successfully Treats Pneumonia.

"In treating Pneumonia," says Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., "the only remedy I use for the lungs is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. While, of course, I would treat other symptoms with different medicines, I have used this remedy many times in my medical practice and have yet failed to find a case where it has not controlled the trouble. I have used it myself, as has also my wife for coughs and colds repeatedly, and I most willingly and cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other cough remedy to my knowledge." We are commanded to turn the other cheek when smitten, but if he smites the second cheek you are at liberty.

For A Lame Back.

When you have pains or lameness in the back bathe the parts with Chamberlain's Liniment twice a day, massaging with the palm of the hand for five minutes at each application. Then dampen a piece of flannel slightly with this liniment and bind it on over the seat of pain, and you may be surprised to see how quickly the lameness disappears. For sale by Laurens Drug Co.
